The purpose of the booklets is to increase awareness of the Mental Capacity Act prior to its implementation in April 2007. The MDA is writing 2 booklets, one for people who may lack capacity and people who wish to plan ahead and the other for family and unpaid carers. The NCA is writing a booklet for people who work in health and social care

We also plan to commission a booklet for people with learning disabilities and one for lawyers and advice workers.

Independent Mental Capacity Advocate service update

Consultation on draft regulations for the IMCA Service in Wales

The Welsh Assembly Government (WAG) is consulting on the draft regulations for the IMCA (Independent Mental Capacity Advocate) service in Wales. The consultation started on 28 July and closes on 27 October 2006.

If you would like a copy of the consultation, please contact Sarah Austin by emailing sarah.austin@wales.gsi.gov.uk. To download the consultation go to www.wales.gov.uk/consultations/currentconsultations and then go to the Health and Social Care section.

IMCA regulations in England

The Department of Health (DH) has consulted with interested parties on the operation and implementation of the IMCA Service in England and has recently laid regulations on the IMCA service in Parliament. For more information please visit www.dh.gov.uk/imca.

Commissioning and funding the IMCA service

The DH has estimated that the cost of the IMCA service in England will be £6.5m per annum and is making this new resource available through the annual local authority settlement using a population based formula.

Local Authorities working in partnership with Primary Care Trusts (PCTs) will commission the IMCA service during 2006. DH has issued guidance that identifies some of the issues for local authorities to consider when deciding how to commission the new IMCA service. For more information go to www.dh.gov.uk/imca.

Throughout August and September the eight Care Services Improvement Partnership (CSIP) regional leads are holding regional events to support the process of commissioning the IMCA service.

The Welsh Assembly Government will shortly be deciding on the funds to be made available to Local Health Boards, through their annual allocation to provide the IMCA service in Wales.

Health and Social Care update

NEW* Best practice tool to prepare for implementation

The DH has developed a best practice tool to assist organisations to test their readiness to comply with the requirements of the Act and to assist local implementation initiatives.

In England the tool is available to local authorities, NHS Trusts and Foundation Trusts who provide community and hospital based services, as well as independent and voluntary hospitals, to assist them to successfully implement the Act. For more information and to download the tool go to <http://www.dh.gov.uk/PublicationsAndStatistics/Bulletins/ChiefExecutiveBulletin/> and then go to Chief Execs Bulletin, Issue 329, 28 July - 3 August 2006.

The DH will shortly publish a best practice tool adapted to the needs of the independent and voluntary social care sector.

In Wales, a similar best practice tool has been made available to Local Health Boards, local authorities and NHS Trusts who provide health and social care services and in Wales. For more information please email sarah.austin@wales.gsi.gov.uk

Training funds

In England, DH will shortly inform all Adult Directors of Social Services of the allocation of funds to support organisations to raise awareness of, and train their staff in, the implications of the Act. The budget allocation will be for the planned and agreed use by all health and social care staff in each local authority's geographical area.

In Wales, the Welsh Assembly Government will shortly make available training grants worth £9,000 for each Local Health Board, Local Authority and NHS Trust in Wales to assist each organisation in training their staff in their duties and responsibilities under the Act. If you would like any more information on training for health and social care practitioners, please email sarah.austin@wales.gsi.gov.uk
